OBJECT OF SUSPICION. GOES OUT OF BUSINESS

This Is What Correspondent Says of Senator Bailey.

REPLY OF RAYMOND.

Says It Was Chandler Who Carried to White House the Intimation
That the Texan Intended
Blocking Court Review.

Chicago, May 17.—The Tribune publishes under date of 16th a telegram from "Raymond," its Washington correspondent, in answer to the attack made upon his veracity by Senator Bailey. It says in part:

"When the Hon. Joseph W. Bailey, senator from Texas, struck at the president of the United States over my humble shoulder, for that is all he did on the floor of the senate, to-day, he apparently was unaware that there was documentary evidence in existence, both in the official Congressional Record and in the form of written memorandum by former Senator William E. Chandler, absolutely proving that he was an object of suspicion, but that his motives and his acts in the Democratic conferences, in the Democratic caucus, on the floor of the senate and in conference between Tillman and Moody, and through Mr. Chandler with the president, gave rise to the suspicion that he was not true to the principle of railroad rate legislation, is clear from the Record itself, and cannot be successfully denied. Mr. Bailey may be as innocent as a babe unborn, and he says he is, but the suspicions did exist, and they have existed off weeks, that they have been talked of in the cloak rooms of the senate, on the streets, at the white house and elsewhere. They have been mentioned in many newspapers, and if they have not been justified, Mr. Bailey is unfortunate, and his character should be relieved from aspersions.

First of all, let me quote W. E. Chandler, formerly a senator from New Hampshire, now the president of the Spanish claims committee. He is the personal friend of Senator Tillman. He was the intermediary between Mr. Tillman and the president. Whichever of the two originated the negotiations, Chandler certainly conducted them. It was his evidence, which has twice been cited by Mr. Tillman on the floor of the senate, and it is Chandler who, in effect, has given the lie direct to the president.

"In the dispatch sent by me on Monday to the Tribune, which aroused such a tempest in the senate this afternoon, and which provoked Senator Bailey to declare it to be a malicious lie, and to insinuate it was directly inspired by the president himself, I stated facts on the authority of Mr. Chandler himself. It was he who conveyed to the white house the intimation that Bailey was a traitor, and if the Texas senator has any one to blame, it must be Tillman's friend, William E. Chandler.

"In the very outset of the negotiations he was conducting, Chandler prepared and left at the white house a written memorandum for the benefit of the president. I haven't the text of that memorandum before me, but, quoting from memory, it says:

"The railroad senators want the Bailey amendment, but Tillman is for the president's court review amendment, and will block their game."

"This is nearly a literal quotation, but no one could have the text, probably, with the permission of the president.

"The dispatch I sent to the Tribune was telegraphed on my own authority, and without the knowledge or consent of the president, against whom Bailey gained his batteries to-day, and not against me. I have not seen the president since the dispatch was written, on a basis of I have not asked him for the text of this memorandum of W. E. Chandler, because the text could, at best, give only a few words to the quotation.

"I know I am correct in my statement that during the course of negotiations W. E. Chandler, who has accused the president of breaking out president himself or some one else, involving him, which was more specious. The during the week Mr. Chandler, during the difficulties in session, announced action by the Democrats in so many words that he Guthrie, Mahan were suspicious of Bailey, Logan County. He was in an alliance with them, with head associating with them, asked for 100,000 oil company and railroad strawberry crop he senate, but that Tillman state that it will bring his maneuvers, and to transport the able to prevent any evil county to market.

"The suspicions to which I referred in the previous dispatch as having entirely existed, and as having been dropped in dropping the negro before United States Democrats."

Mormon Church Will Dispose of All Its Holdings.

VALUABLE PROPERTY

President Smith Says the Membership Now Is Strong Enough to Require No Further Protecting Care.

Salt Lake City, May 17.—According to a local paper, the Mormon church is going out of business. Its principal holding in the Salt Lake Light and Railway company is to be taken over by a $25,000,000 corporation, composed of English and American capitalists. The new company will also acquire the Ogden street railway and build an electric line from Juab county, Utah, to Onelda county, Idaho. The board of directors will include H. H. Vreeland, of New York City, Baron D'Ossel of Paris, Sir Thomas Jackson of London, Alex McKenzie, of Ottawa, Canada; Beersford Hop of London and a number of Utah men.

Simultaneously the announcement was made that the Salt Lake and Los Angeles railroad, another church property, has been sold to a local syndicate for $500,000. This road is thirteen miles in length and runs from this city to Salt Lake.

President Smith, of the Mormon church, is quoted as saying the divorce of religion from business is made on account of the fact that the Mormons, whom the church sought to protect years ago, no longer need the protection of the church in business affairs.

If this policy is completely carried out the sale of traction interests will be followed by the sale of stocks in banks, sugar factories, the great Zion department store and many smaller enterprises.

It will be nothing less than a commercial revolution in Utah.

TIGERT CHOSEN.

Elected a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Birmingham, Ala., May 17.—Dr. John J. Tigert, secretary of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was elected a bishop on the first ballot taken Thursday by the Methodist conference. He received 160 votes out of 273 votes cast. No other bishop was elected on the first ballot. Count of tellers showed the vote on first ballot to be as follows: J. J. Tigert, 160; J. G. Kilgore, 100; Seth Ward, 85; Collins Denny, 84; W. F. McMurray, 74; James Atkins, 70; W. F. Tillet, 58; W. B. Murray, 54, and E. W. Anderson, 24. These were leaders, with scattering votes for forty-eight others, but none of the latter received more than nine votes, while most of them got only one vote each. Dr. Tigert was given an ovation and the bishops and others crowded about him to offer their congratulations. He at once resigned as secretary of the conference and recommended the election of Assistant Secretary Watkins in his place. Mr. Watkins was elected secretary.

Rev. Seth Ward of Texas was elected a bishop on the third ballot.

TIME LIMIT REMAINS.

By an Overwhelming Majority Conference Refuses to Extend It.

Birmingham, Ala., May 17.—The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, adopted by an overwhelming majority the minority report of the committee on itinerary, opposing any extension of the time limit of pastors. The majority of the committee had reported in favor of extending the limit from four to six years. The report precipitated a long discussion, which was quite acrimonious at times.

The special committee on Sabbath observance presented a report admonishing church members against Sabbath desecration.

The Harvard Cross.

The iron cross burnished with gold which is over one of the entrances to the Harvard college library (Gore hall) was at the time of the 1745 siege of Louisburg taken from a Catholic chapel there and brought to Massachusetts as one of the spoils of victory. In 1877 Justin Winsor, the librarian of Harvard college library, found it in the cellar of the library and had it gilded and placed in the position which it now occupies.

Medicine.

Throw out opium, said Dr. Holmes, which the Creator himself seems to prescribe, for we often see the scarlet poppy growing in the cornfields, as if it were foreseen that wherever there is hunger to be fed there must also be pain to be soothed; throw out a few specifics which our art did not discover and is hardly needed to apply; throw out wine, which is a food and the vapors which produce the miracle of anesthesia, and I firmly believe that if the whole materia medica as now used could be sunk to the bottom of the sea it would be all the better for mankind and all the worse for the fishes.

The shortest system of medical practice that I know of is the oldest, but not the worst. It is older than Hippocrates, older than Chiron the Centaur. Nature taught it to the first mother when she saw her firstborn child putting some ugly pebble or lurid berry into its mouth. I know not in what language it was spoken, but I know that in English it would sound thus: "Spit it out!"

When You Write Abroad.

In writing to France or Italy, a postmaster pointed out the other day, the address should be printed, for the printed characters of French, Italian and English are alike, but of the written ones this is not true. The capital letter T, for instance, is written in France and Italy like C. The top stroke is made as with us, but the downward stroke curves to the right instead of to the left. Our C is taken for a T abroad. Our T is taken for I or J. It is important therefore to print instead of to write proper names on foreign letters. A letter addressed in writing to, for instance, a man named Treat would be thought by the French and Italian to be addressed to Treant, and in the general delivery department of the postoffice it would be placed in the I instead of in the T compartment. Thus when Mr. Treat called for his mail a search of compartment T would reveal nothing for him, and his letter, hidden among the I's, would never be delivered.

Made the Bear Work.

Bill Winters uses his wit to save his strength. During a camping trip in the Maine woods Bill was easily the laziest man in the party. Finally his exasperated comrades told him that if he did not kill something besides time they would pack him off home. The next morning Bill borrowed a rifle and went off up the mountains. Two hours later the men in camp saw Bill running down again as fast as he could come, and close behind him was a bear. The men watched the chase, with loaded rifles ready. On reaching camp Bill turned and shot the bear. When the men could stop laughing one of them said, "Bill, what on earth possessed you to run that distance with the bear so close when you might have killed him on the hill and saved your breath?" Bill smiled slowly. "What's the use of killing a bear in the mountains and lugging him in when you can run him in?" he asked.—Boston Herald.

The Truce of God.

One of the most curious of the many queer mediaeval customs was that known as "the truce of God." From what we have been able to learn of it the custom appears to have originated as an outgrowth of a desire to protect the common people to some extent at least against the lawless tyranny of the feudal lords of the middle ages. It was first decreed at a church synod which convened at Roussillon in the year 1027. By this decree it was provided that no man should attack his enemy between Saturday evening at noon and Monday morning at the hour of prime. About the year 1032 a similar compact was entered into between the church and the barons of England. The church forbade barons to make any attack upon each other between sunset on Wednesday night and sunrise on the following Monday or upon any feast or fast day. The same truce made provision that no man should be disturbed while laboring at his trade or while going to or from a place of worship.

Lost a Railroad.

"A champagne dinner once cost St. Joseph, Mo., the Union Pacific railroad," said an old railroad official. "The Union Pacific aid bill was up for consideration in congress in the early sixties. It fixed St. Joseph as the eastern terminus of the road. While the bill was under consideration a banquet was held at St. Joseph. It was attended by many of the leading men of the town. After they had filled up on champagne a question arose as to which flag should float from the city hall. The Confederate flag was finally decided on, and in the morning the stars and stripes were hauled down and the stars and bars hoisted. The news reached Washington that very day, while the Union Pacific bill was still under consideration. Senator Pomeroy moved that the name St. Joseph, Mo., be stricken from the bill and Omaha, Neb., be substituted. The amendment carried and St. Joseph thereby lost the Union Pacific."—Kansas City Journal.

Nelson in Wolsey's Tomb.

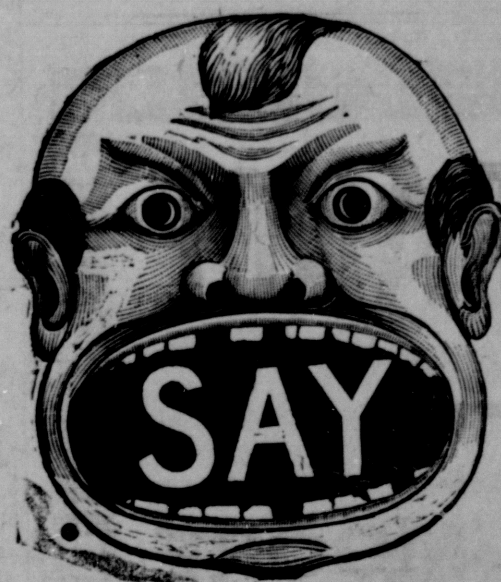

Lord Nelson's sarcophagus in St. Paul's cathedral has been aptly described as a secondhand national tomb, for it was originally constructed for another great Englishman, Cardinal Wolsey. Wolsey had cherished an ambition to be buried within the precincts of Windsor castle and caused his sarcophagus to be carved by one of the most famous sculptors of his time. But Wolsey died in disgrace, and the sarcophagus remained empty at Windsor until Nelson's death, when it was thriftily employed to hold the remains of the hero of Trafalgar.

The prevalent slang phrase, "Twenty-three," which being interpreted means get out, depart, vamoose, skidoo, etc., is said to have originated from Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities," in which the knitting women counted the victims of the guillotine, and the last one, the hero of the story, was "23." High finance and graft have brought the expression into favor with a constantly widening application.

SCIENTIFIC ASSOCIATION.

The last meeting of the Scientific Association for the year was held last Friday night in the chemistry section room. The Association closed its series of meetings in a blaze of glory. The Association has furnished some valuable results from the study that different members have made upon various subjects during the year. Many of the students have taken special interest in the work that has been carried on at the meetings and feel amply repaid for the attention they have given.

The speakers for the evening were Profs. Potts and Conradi. Prof. Potts spoke at some length upon the criminal as he is treated when taken in charge by the state, and especially with reference to Texas management. The key note to his discussion was that of the object which a state should have in mind when it receives the prisoner. He says that now, and his claim is made good, there is no better place to breed the social disease, crime, than that of the common class of penitentiaries. They do nothing to reform the criminal. It is pre-eminently the duty of the state to put the inmate of prisons in surroundings and influences which instil in him the correct ideas of the moral life and send him back to his fellow men a better man morally than when he entered. Too many are sent back without any change whatever for the good. A theory that Prof. Potts advocated in his talk was that of the indefinite sentence. He would have the criminal sent to prison and retained there until his keepers, expert men in their line, decided he was a proper man to mingle with general society. This sounds very well in theory but has never been tried in practice.

The report of the mosquito committee was made by Prof. Conradi. He told what investigations had been made and gave the suggestions that the committee thought would be proper to effect a remedy for this pest. The report was adopted by the association and the president, Dr. N. H. Brown, was instructed to carry the proceedings before Pres. Harrington for any action that he might think proper.—The Battalion.

THE MARKETS.

Special to The Eagle.

Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo., May 14.—Supply of quarantines last week was 162 cars, market averaged steady for the week. Run today is 49 cars, against 91 cars last Monday, market steady and active. Some of the Silberstine cattle from Chickasha sold at $4.85 and $5.10, other fed steers at $4.50 to $4.95, and short fed steers brought $4.00 to $4.50, grass steers $3.60 to $4.20 cows $2.50 to $3. Fed bulls sold last week at $3.25 to $3.60. The general cattle market held steady last week, and the present state of trade can sustain prices on a supply of 35,000 to 40,000 per week. Total run today is 7000 head, about 4000 less than any recent Monday, and it looks like receipts this week will run considerably short of the above figures. Cows and heifers held up better in the native division last week than steers; packers need the light weight animals to satisfy a certain trade, and until the light grass steers move freely butcher stock will sell strong. Veal calves are selling strong yet, best ones up to $6.00, but it is likely that receipts of these will increase soon, depressing the market; this is already the condition at eastern points.

Hogs made a net gain of 16c per cwt. last week, total run 58,000 head. The demand here is stronger than at any time before this year. Cudahy shipped a train to Los Angeles last week. Quality remains pretty good, but weights are decreasing gradually. More rough sows and stags are included than heretofore. Shippers remember that the prices of these is cut. Supply today light at 7000, market strong to 5c higher; top $6.45, bulk of sales $6.30 to $6.42½ weights below 200 lbs. $6.20 to $6.35, pigs $5.00 to $5.90. J. A. Rickart, Live Stock Correspondent.

CENTRAL TEXAS FAIR GROUNDS SOLD

Through the real estate agency of Monroe Edge yesterday a trade were agreed upon by the terms of which Mr. S. B. Buchanan has purchased from the directors of the Central Texas Fair Association the fair grounds and all the improvements thereon. The purchase price is $2250. Mr. Buchanan will sell such of the buildings as he finds purchasers for as they stand and the others and the fence as lumber.

The Eagle learns that the outstanding indebtedness of the fair association will be wiped out by the returns from the sale of the property.

The executive committee of the Texas State Horticultural Society has prepared a program for the next annual meeting at College July 10, 11, 12. It met in Palestine Friday, the 10th, and was composed of President Edward W. Knox, Vice President E. J. Kyle, and Sam H. Dixon of Houston. Among the prominent horticulturists of Texas whose names appear on the program are the following: President H. H. Harrington, Prof. A. S. Conradi, and W. S. Hotchkiss of the Troupe Experiment Station.—Battalion.

The suggestion has been made that Bryan have an old-time barbecue some time in July and invite candidates for state offices to be present and speak; also the congressional candidates. The Eagle thinks the idea is a good one, and that a very large crowd would be attracted, such a crowd as we have not had for a long time. It is believed that the funds can easily be raised by popular subscription. No action has been taken yet in the matter.

J. A. Robertson, a truck farmer from Beaumont, was here yesterday looking at Brazos county lands with a view to buying and locating here, but he has not fully determined the matter. Mr. Robertson was attracted to Brazos county by the advertising matter sent out by the Business League through Mr. Monroe Edge, and was shown around yesterday by Mr. Edge.

A Rock Island homeseekers' excursion passed through the city southbound yesterday afternoon. A part of the crowd got left by the regular train in Fort Worth and used a special to catch up.

CATARRH FROM CHILDHOOD.

Cured by Hyomel, the Only Medicine for Catarrh that E. J. Jenkins is Willing to Guarantee.

The popularity and growth of Hyomel are unique in the annals of medicine. The demand for the Hyomel outfit and the extra bottles in Bryan has been something phenomenal and E. J. Jenkins says that he has never sold any other remedy which gave such universal satisfaction and made so many remarkable cures.

The worst and most chronic cases of catarrh readily yield to the use of Hyomel. People who have suffered from childhood have been cured by this remedy. J. S. Nugent, treasurer of the American Union Insurance Co., New York City, writes: "Hyomel has completely cured my daughter of catarrh, from which she had been suffering for years."

So many remarkable results have attended the use of Hyomel amongst the customers of E. J. Jenkins, that he feels justified in using the strongest possible language in speaking of its virtues, and when you read that he sells it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure, you will see that he fully believes in its curative powers. A complete outfit costs only one dollar; extra bottles 50 cents.

CULBERSON'S SUBSTITUTE.

After Being Amended It Was Adopted by a Large Majority.

Washington, May 17.—Senator Culberson presented in the senate Wednesday a substitute for the anti-pass amendment to the railroad rate bill. The substitute so modified the provision as to permit members of the families of railroad employees, bona fide attorneys for railroads, whether constantly employed or not, and the caretakers of livestock to accept free transportation. Senator Culberson said that his purpose in presenting the amendment had been to get rid of a very vexatious practice in the southern states.

The Culberson amendment was then extended so as to except so many persons and classes that when read is aroused general merriment on the floor of the senate.

A provision related to ex-Confederate soldiers, and was inserted at the suggestion of Mr. Bacon, and when Mr. Spooner asked if the exception was intended to apply to ex-Confederate soldiers in congress, he replied in the negative, but said "if it did, there are so few of us that it would not matter."

Senator Gallinger moved to amend the provision as it then stood by adding to the exceptions, "families of attorneys, their sisters and their cousins and their aunts."

Senator Culberson moved to lay the amendment on the table, saying that the New Hampshire senator could not kill the amendment by his effort to reduce it to ridicule, "offensive as it is."

Mr. Gallinger withdrew his amendment.

Mr. Culberson's amendment, as amended, was agreed to—60 to 16.

Senator McLaurin then presented an amendment prohibiting greater charges for short hauls than for long hauls, and Senator Daniel moved a substitute to cover the situation in Virginia. Both senators spoke in support of their respective provisions, and Mr. McLaurin entered upon a general criticism of the president's course in connection with the rate bill. He declared that the president had entirely changed his position, and predicted the production of a new song to be known as "Roosevelt's Surrender," and to be sung to the tune of "Bonaparte's Retreat."

Mr. Daniel's substitute was then voted down, and the McLaurin provision immediately met a like fate.

An amendment by McLaurin, prohibiting the running of trains on the Sabbath also was summarily voted down. In support of this provision the Mississippi senator read the scriptural commandment: "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy." He expressed the opinion that the Republican senate would vote down the Lord's prayer.

HIOKI LIKES US.

"Nveer In My Life Have I Had a Pleasanter Time."

Washington, May 17.—Eki Hiohi, who was in charge of the Japanese mission to Washington until the arrival of the new ambassador, Viscount Aoki, several weeks ago, left Washington Tuesday to return to Japan, where he will report to the foreign office preparatory to receiving another appointment. Mr. Hiohi will stop at Houston, Tex., to visit friends, and will also be at San Francisco a short time before going to Seattle, from which port he sails on May 24.

"Never in my life have I had a pleasanter time than during the last two years in the United States," said Mr. Hiohi as he was leaving Washington. "Having arrived at the beginning of one of the most gigantic struggles the world has ever seen; having been at this post at time when that struggle was to be terminated by the masterful efforts of the great president of a great republic; having seen the people of this country bring succor so willingly to the distressed by ramine in the northern provinces of Japan, and having also seen our people express their genuine appreciation of American sympathy and friendship in their noble efforts in tendering relief in unfortunate California, I can say that I have seen expressions of cordiality and good will in all their phases existing between Japan and the United States. I now go home almost intoxicated by the exuberance of American sympathy and friendship."

"The United States, with its immense territory, rich and fertile, with its political and social institutions, will undoubtedly soon be the first in the race of mankind."

"MODIFYING ITS LIES."

Bailey Charges New York Tribune With Pursuing This Course.

Washington, May 17.—Senator Bailey in the senate Thursday revived the scene of Wednesday by having read a letter he had written to ex-Senator Chandler asking him for anything that he had written the president concerning himself and replies from Chandler, including a copy of Chandler's diary, giving the history of his movement on the day when certain memorandum was sent to the president. Senator Bailey quoted from the New York Tribune and charged that paper in its Washington correspondence with "modifying its lies."

Chandler's letter and diary showed that the president, three days after receiving Chandler's letter, urged him to meet his cabinet officer in conference on this very matter. "That," he said, "did not indicate the president then, as he now does, distorted Chandler's note as impugning his motive. 'I have only contempt,' he said, 'for a man who will treat with those whom they suspect of treachery, and none but traitors will do it.'"

The galleries were packed while Senator Bailey spoke.

He referred to the report that a memorandum was circulated among Democratic Senators. This he denied, but he charged that the president Wednesday showed a memorandum to a Republican Senator and to a Republican member of the house. He said that the Chandler memorandum impugned no bad faith to him, nor even to railroad senators.

Senator Bailey declared that president did not doubt his (Bailey's) good faith, because three days after the memorandum, the president, through Chandler, asked him to confer with the attorney general on subject.

Mr. Bailey took up the reply of the Chicago Tribune correspondent in his denunciation and said it did not meet the situation. He quoted from it and intimated that the assertions of the correspondent made was based on information obtained from the president or some one near him.

Mr. Bailey said he had been charged with being impetuous, rash and dictatorial, but no one had or could charge him with double-dealing. When such charges was made he would brand across the forehead of the man making the charge the word, "liar," in order "that he might be known and shunned of all men."

COTTON INDUSTRY.

Large and Important Deputation Interviews British Premier.

London, May 17.—A large, and important deputation interested in the cotton industry of Lancashire interviewed Premier Campbell-Bannerman at the foreign office relative to the necessity for opening new sources of supply. Members of the deputation emphasized the fact that the cotton trade is in a dangerous position. They pointed out that Great Britain is dependent on America for 75 per cent of her supply of raw material and, therefore, it is absolutely necessary to broaden the sources of supply. The only possible salvation, it was declared, lay in north Algeria, but railways were indispensable.

The premier was very sympathetic, but said he could not commit the government to any promises. He was ready, however, to favorably consider any scheme for railroad construction involving reasonable governmental assistance.

CONFIDENCE IN TEXAN.

Senator Tillman Said Correspondent Is a Muck Rake.

Washington, May 17.—Senator Tillman, in referring to a correspondent of a Chicago paper who sent a telegram to his paper relative to Senator Bailey, said:

"This correspondent is undoubtedly a muck rake. Into whose house the handle goes, or what hand holds it, I will not attempt to say."

He said he counted eight distinct falsehoods in the article, but he desired to address himself first to a denial that he had ever been suspicious of Senator Bailey. He declared that his great esteem and admiration for the Texas senator, and that cordial relations had always existed. Articles of this character were being sent broadcast over the country, said Mr. Tillman, at the instance of the Republican machine to "befuddle" the situation. As to the statement by Attorney General Moody that he could see no hope for an agreement on any amendment unless it was drawn by the senators themselves, Senator Tillman said that it was an adroit effort to give color to the president's retreat behind the Allison amendment.

"I do not care to pursue this object further," said Senator Tillman, "but that future historians may be able to get at the truth as to who lied, I shall make no further contribution."

He then read the letter sent him by former Senator Chandler in response to Senator Lodge's denial for the president of Senator Chandler's former statement.

Senator Bailey said his attention had been called to another article printed in the New York Tribune. He said it was of the same character as that printed in the Chicago Tribune. Pointing to the press gallery, he said:

"I intend to put in the Record the statement of more than one reputable newspaper correspondent in that gallery, and as a rule they are as honorable as senators on this floor, and on their authority I state that the two chief cuckoos of this administration are correspondents of the New York and Chicago Tribune."

"And, therefore, it seems to me conclusive that this slander proceeds from the white house. I hope, for the honor of my country, that it does not proceed from the president himself."

"But if he be a man of high sense of honor he will see to it that senators are not slandered by his subordinates, and the miserable wretch who communicated to these newspapers, and who sought through them to communicate to the country a slander on me which people might discuss, rather than the issues that have been raised, he is unfit for his high office, and the man who perpetrated that infamy will pay for it with his position; and if the man continues to hold his office it is to be assumed that what he has done has been with the approval of his chief."

No reply was made, and this closed the incident.

Easy Pill

Easy to take and easy to act is that famous little pill DeWitt's Little Early Risers. This is due to the fact that they tonic the liver instead of purging it. They never gripe nor sicken, not even the most delicate lady, and yet they are so certain in results that no one who uses them is disappointed. They cure torpid liver, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, headache, malaria and ward off pneumonia and fevers.
